

ISC 15U-19U Commitment Expectations Training and Game Attendance Rules for 2017-2018 Season

Summary of Training Requirements for the 2017-2018 Season: All Rules Below apply to both our “A” and “B” players on each roster.

There are four periods of time that you must meet required standards for practice attendance. Of these four periods of time, there are two seasons that we have designated as the 2 main seasons. Each player must designate one of the two main seasons as their high commitment period unless they declare both seasons as equal commitment. During the main season that a player declares as their high commitment period, the athlete must attend 3 practices per week in order to play in games. In the main season that you have declared as your low commitment season, you must attend 1 practice per week in order to be eligible to play in games. If you declare both main seasons as equal commitment, you must attend 2 practices per week in both seasons to be eligible to play in games.

During the main season that a player declares as their high commitment period, the athlete must attend 3 practices per week in order to play in games. If a player does not attend 3 practices per week during their high commitment period, they are not allowed to play in ANY games on the weekend. If you declare the fall season as your high commitment period, all 3 practices that you are required to attend MUST be with your assigned team from September -October. (However, please note that the fall season runs through the month of November. If this is your main season, once we move indoors for training at the beginning of November, we only have 2 team practices. Therefore, from November-December, players that declare the fall season as their main season will practice 2 times per week with their team and once per week at an extra practice such as “super skills” or Incentive Plan.”)

If you declare the winter season as your high commitment period, 2 of the 3 practices that you are required to attend MUST be with your assigned team because we only have 2 team sessions per week in the winter. Therefore, anyone who declares the winter season as their high commitment season, must also pick up another practice such as an “incentive plan” or “super skills” practice to get to 3 practices per week.

In the main season that you have declared as your low commitment season, you must attend 1 practice per week in order to be eligible to play in games. During the main season that you have declared as your low commitment season, the 1 practice required per week MUST be with your assigned team unless otherwise approved by the ISC Director of Coaching.

If you declare both main seasons as equal commitment, you must attend 2 practices per week in both main seasons to be eligible to play in games. In addition, if you declare both main seasons as equal commitment, both of the practices that you are required to attend in the fall and winter MUST be with your assigned team.

(Please note that if the weekly practice obligation isn't met, the player that has not met their obligations will not play in the games on the weekend. This rule applies to both outdoor games and indoor games. Furthermore, if a player is sick or injured and that prevents the player from meeting their practice obligation, they are ineligible to play in the games for the weekend. The only exception to this rule is if the coaches choose to sit out a player the week prior to state cup to give them more rest for the STATE CUP TOURNAMENT.)

Please also note that even if your team does not have a game on the weekend, the practice requirement must be met. If players do not meet their practice obligation during the week preceding a weekend without a game, they will not be eligible to play in the games for the following weekend. We will, however, work with players if they are missing practices due to injury and upon their return from the injury, they will NOT need to make up missed practices. As long as the player that is returning from an injury meets their practice obligations during the week preceding the match that they want to play in, they will be allowed to return without making up missed practices. It is not in the best interest of an athlete that was injured to try and make up missed practices.

For those players that do not have an injury and miss a practice during a week preceding a weekend without games, we do not allow for a provision for players to make up those practices in the following week in order to be eligible to play in matches. We require steady and consistent week by week attendance.

4 Required Periods for Attendance

August Pre-Season

- August 2017
- 12 Practices Required for all players. (You can use the 2017 Iron Camp in July to finish these practices.) Regardless of which season is your main season, all players are required to complete the 12 pre-season practices before the end of August.
- You can count up to 6 "super skills," "incentive plans," "iron camp days," or other team sessions toward your total of 12 practices for the pre-season. This means that at least 6 of your total of 12 pre-season practices must be with your assigned team.
- Iron Camp=3 practices for a full day of attendance. Half day=1.5
- Last year the Iron Camp hours were held from 9 AM-4 PM with 12-1 PM as lunch. I have not set the dates for the summer Iron Camp, but last year we held the camp during the last week in July.

Summary of Game Attendance Requirements for the 2017-2018 Season for ISC Advanced Year Round Players in age groups of 15U-19U:

Fall Outdoor Season

- 2 Full Tournaments (Cannot count state cup)
- 60% Attendance for league games.

Fall Season:

All players, both "A" and "B" players in the advanced year round program, must commit to at least 2 full weekend tournaments in the fall season. This means that the player must be in attendance for all games of the tournament. A complete schedule of fall tournaments is listed below. Players on both the "A" and "B" will be considered for selection to the state cup roster. Selection to and participation in the state cup does not fulfill the tournament requirement detailed above for the fall season for tournaments. Each player must make 2 other tournaments in addition to the state cup. Being selected to the state cup roster is a privilege and something that we hope that all of the players in the age group are striving to make during the fall season. If you make the state cup roster, you will play in 3 events. We will follow the same process for GSI in KC in November.

Winter Season

- Participation in One Winter indoor league and attendance at no less than 60% of the indoor games.
